KINGSTON in JAMAICA, June 2.

TUESDAY laſt, came in from the Coaſt of Africa, commanded by George Cockburn, Eſq; his majeſty's ſhip the Glory, of forty guns, by whom we are informed, that when they lay at Cape Coaſt Caſtle, two French men of war, and a merchant man, paſſed by there, in their way to Anamaboa, upon which Captain Cockburn went down after them, being joined next day by his majeſty's ſhips the St. Alban, of ſixty, and the Aſſiſtance, of fifty guns, together with a ſloop; and on their arrival at Anamaboa, found them there accordingly: Upon which Captain Cockburn ſent to the French commodore, demanding that their merchantman ſhould go out of the road, otherwiſe he would be obliged to force her out; for that ſhe had no buſineſs there, as Anamaboa was an Engliſh ſettlement: And farther, that if they wanted any proviſions, they were heartily welcome to what that place could afford; but that he muſt fix a day for his departure: All which Monſieur, after ſome difficulty, complied with, and ſailed a day before the time appointed for his departure.

New York, July 2. Since our laſt arrived here the Capts. Lawrence, Brown and Dickſon, all from the Bay of Honduras, in a paſſage of between 25 and 30 days. They inform us, that ſailing from thence about the 23d of May laſt, they came to an anchor on Water Key Banks, where they remained all night: That the next morning, at break of day, they ſaw a brigt. coming in, which afterwards prov'd to be a Spaniſh one of 12 carriage guns and 24 ſwivels, and about 80 men: That in about three hours after, ſhe took Capt. Brown, on board of whom ſhe put 8 or 10 hands: That ſoon after, ſhe took Capt. Lawrence, on board of whom he likewiſe put 8 hands: He then chaſed Capt. Dickſon, who finding himſelf purſued, run his ſchooner aſhore, where the Spaniards ſoon after likewiſe got aſhore, and manning his boats went and plundered Capt. Dickſon; but finding himſelf chaſed by a ſloop and brigt. fitted out by the Engliſh veſſels in the Bay, he ſoon quitted both his own veſſel and Capt. Dickſon's ſchooner, and went aſhore on ſome of the Keys, leaving his brigt. ſtill a-ground: That the Engliſhmen ſoon after got both the veſſels off, retook Capt. Brown, and kept poſſeſſion of the Spaniſh brigt. During this time Capt. Lawrence retook his own veſſel, by killing three of the Spaniards, three more he obliged to jump overboard, and the other two he carried back and put on board of Capt. Spurrier, in a ſhip bound for Holland.

Extract of a Letter from Halifax, dated July 3, 1753.

—" Some time ago Governor Hobſon ſent out a ſmall ſloop to a place called Shedore, about 12 leagues diſtance from hence, in order to bring up the Indians with their Squaws, according to treaty; but theſe inhuman wretches barbarouſly murder'd Mr. Cleaveland, part owner of the ſloop, and five others, and afterwards ſcalp'd them: Mr. Caſtile (the interpreter) who declared himſelf a Frenchman, being the only perſon of the whole crew that they ſaved alive, who arrived here laſt night from Cape-Breton, and acquainted us with this terrible diſaſter. The Indians burnt the ſloop, and the articles of peace before Mr. Caſtile's face, and deſired him to inform his governor of the whole affair, upon his arrival at Halifax. Major John Baptiſt Cope, was chief, who I have often convers'd with, and always found him firmly attach'd to the Engliſh intereſt; and 'tis thought the only motive that could induce the Indians to perpetrate ſo cruel an action, was the loſs of ſix of their people, who were murdered and ſcalp'd by ſome perſons belonging here, ſome time ſince; and we are much afraid more innocent men will ſuffer.

Boſton, July 30. Laſt wedneſday night, between 12 and 1 o'clock, a fire broke out in a cooper's ſhop on Bronſdon's wharf, at the North End of this town, which burnt with ſuch violence, that in 3 or 4 hours time (it being low water) ſeveral tenements, ſtore-houſes, ſhops, and other building, about 30 in number, were conſumed, together with large quantities of boards, ſtaves, mahogany, cordage, ſalt, and many other valuable articles. A ſchooner lying near the wharf, was entirely deſtroyed, and a ſloop burnt down to the ſcupper-holes. Several other veſſels received much damage in their ſhrouds, rigging, &c. and very narrowly eſcaped being entirely deſtroy'd, as did ſeveral dwelling houſes in the neighbourhood. 'Tis impoſſible to compute the loſs of the ſufferers, but 'tis certainly very great, for there has not been ſo terrible a fire for upwards of twenty years, tho' we have had ſeveral great ones within that time.
